Most of the recent information we have about Tim Hoopes and his family has come from two articles in the Washington, DC newspapers. On 4 Oct 1971 we learn from THE EVENING STAR and THE WASHINGTON DAILY NEWS that "the Hoopes are really into natural foods" and that "Mrs. Hoopes has put her money where her mouth is and last year bought into the natural and organic food store and restaurant, 'Yes.' "

An article from THE WASHINGTON STAR by Betty Beale on 18 Mar 1979 contains a wealth of interesting facts about Mrs. Hoopes and we would like to quote from it here:

".....There are dozens more wealthy society women who have full-time paying careers in this city but none is more fascinating than that of Ann Hoopes, wife of former Asst. Sec'y of Defense Townsend Hoopes.....

"The Hoopeses live in a beautiful house in the Spring Valley area with pool, tennis court and two baby grand pianos for Ann's two-piano concerts she gives with a friend. They recently played a Debussy and Bach concert in her home for Chinese Ambassador Chai Tse-min and his wife. But music is no longer her main love.

"Based on her own recovery after four operations had left her wearing a back brace with lots of aches and pains and taking daily dosages of 'masses of pills', Ann Hoopes opened The Wellness Center here in January. It takes a holistic approach to health and three practitioners: Dr. George E. Keeler III, an M.D. who believes in preventive medicine; Richard T. Power, M.S., a nutritionist who believes in nutritional therapy based on endocrine gland evaluation; Aldona Sim-danavichus, a massage therapist who got her degree at Sevastopol Institute in Russia....."

"She went on an all vegetable, no meat, health food diet and the first day she went into the Yes! Health Food Store she bought 15 percent of it and has been chairman of the board ever since. Naturally, it carries all the things she takes like lecithin, manganese, zinc, selenium, kelp and alfalfa ('for arthritic tendencies'), potassium, iron and vitamins."

Janet tells an interesting anecdote about her mother: "When I was about 18 months old, my mother was very troubled, even considered suicide. She has always very religious but could not understand some things in the Bible and the whole purpose of her life. During this time two young Mormon missionaries knocked on her door." Janet's mother was converted to the LDS Church and Janet was raised in this faith. One of the missionaries was Milton E. Fuller, brother to Dr. Gerald Fuller, one of the authors of this work.

Judy owns her own window washing business which she calls, "I Can See Clearly Now". An interesting article about her business venture appeared in the Whidbey NEWS—TIMES in Oak Harbor, WA on 10 Aug 1978 from which we would like to quote:

" 'I Can See Clearly Now,' as it is aptly titled, is the name of a professional window washing service provided by a 37-year old Coupeville woman who has held a variety of traditional and non-traditional jobs ranging from escrow secretary to worm farmer.

"The concept emerged from a magazine article on window washing, according to Judy Suval, the sole employee of a business which began a year ago and is just beginning to flourish.

"It met all of my criteria—I wanted to be flexible, choose my own hours, work for myself, be outside, have physical work and have a decent salary," she said. The opportunity to become more familiar with a friendly community also played a part in her decision.

"SuvaPs occupational choice has directed her all over the island, from Useless Bay to Deception Pass, although she prefers to remain in the Coupeville-Oak Harbor area. She washes primarily residential windows but such businesses as the Coupeville Pharmacy and Main Street Market have become regular customers.

"Initially the idea generated such response as 'gee, I wish I'd thought of that,' she said. Without exception, people have extended their warmth and generosity, even providing her with meals.

"But, 'people sometimes have trouble relating to me, understanding that it's a woman washing the windows,' she said. 'I have a little trouble getting past that—having to be categorized as a female—they assume I can't carry my own ladder.'

"Besides the innate benefits of self-employment like flexibility, the job offers several bonuses.

"'I'm a lot stronger physically and I'm overcoming my fear of height,' she said, adding that if windows are too high for her personal comfort she is in a position to politely decline.

"Some 'business and homeowners' tendencies to request her services only for windows at extremely high elevations, asserting that they would have no difficulty cleaning all the other ones, has spurred her to charge a little extra for such services.

".....The job has also given her a new outlook on what was once just another household task. 'I didn't like cleaning my own windows as a housewife, but doing them with professional cleaning equipment is a real pleasure,' she said.

".....'It's just a matter of learning how to use the equipment, trusting the ladder and crawling around the roofs,' Suval summed it up.

".....Her many artistic talents also include spinning and natural dying, which she teaches through Skagit Valley College. She has taken interim jobs in elementary carpentry, and is currently helping to build a house near Pennington Hills in connection with a window washing job."

Judy has also written and is marketing a "Do It Yourself book on starting one's own business.

A blast furnace was located in Paxtonville (the place at one time was known as Beaver Furnace) in 1848. The name of the firm was Middleswarth, Kern & Co. The men chiefly interested in the establishment of the furnace were the Hon. N. Middleswarth, Jacob Kern and John C. Wilson. Charcoal and pigiron were manufactured there (approximately 6-8 tons per day). The iron furnace was wrecked by an explosion in 1856, repaired again and kept in operation until 1866, when it was permanently abandoned. To this furnace and the ore mines in the neighborhood must be attributed the founding of the village. In 1885, the village boasted a post office, school house, store and church. The population that year was about 62 inhabitants. The Beaver Furnace was once the leading and only manufacturing plant in Snyder Co., PA.

In 1846, a young man by the name of John C. Wilson, in the company of his brother David, opened an iron furnace at Benfer Station (now Paxtonville, PA). Wilson had had a little previous experience in the iron industry when he operated a furnace in Laurelton, Union Co., PA. By his knowledge of the business, he easily induced John Kern, Daniel Kern and Jacob Kern, of near Benfer Station, the railroad station, to enter into the business with him and they supplied the capital. The firm prospered during the first years of existence and within a few years extensive improvements were made on the property. A large number of men were employed. In 1859, the company sold some of its iron @ $75/ton. The holdings were sold to Middleswarth at the time of the Civil War. In 1880, the property changed hands again. The place where the furnace stood is now a hole in the ground. The entire furnace was torn away and the stones used as the foundation for the Borough School House in Middleburg.

The above information comes from Elizabeth S. Denny, 406 Bruce Dr., Camden, SC 29020. Mrs Denny also tells us that Rachel Ann Scott, the daughter of Merchant and Mary (Stringer) Scott, was reared by George W. and Ann (Hoopes) Scott. Her sister, Mary Rebecca Scott was reared by the Thomas and Ann (Gray) Hoopes who founded Hoopeston, IL. The story is told that Rachel Ann went to visit Mary Rebecca and while there met and married George W. Ingle by whom she had a son, Scott Ingle who married Beulah Watson. Rachel became quite prominent in Hoopeston and remained so until her untimely death in an auto accident.

Mary Rachel Scott was raised by Thomas and Ann (Gray) Hoopes, 1287, from the time she was six years of age. When Thomas moved to IL she moved with him and she married there and all her children were born in the Hoopeston area. The only grandchild still living is Jessica Cunningham Trent, daughter of Frank Hoopes and Dora (Dove) Cunningham. She was living in Danville, IL when your editor attended the Hoopeston Centennial in 1971 and it was she who was selected to light the torch because she was considered to be a great granddaughter of Thomas Hoopes.

Mrs. Denny sent us an interesting article entitled "Jessie Trent Remembers" which I would like to reprint here: (It appeared in the Heritage Magazine in 1981.

"I was born in 1894 on a farm near Hoopeston. My father was Frank Hoopes Cunningham and my mother was Eudora Brown Dove Cunningham. My great grandfather was Uncle Tom Hoopes and great grandmother was Aunt Ann Hoopes. They gave the land for the railroad to build on and in return the people honored great grandfather by naming the town for him, Hoopeston.

"Since it is confusing to hear me call Thomas Hoopes great grandfather and uncle I had better explain. Uncle Tommy's wife Ann was frail so they took into their home their two nieces, Rachel and Mary Scott. Rachel married George Ingle and after she married Uncle Tommy adopted Mary Scott who was to become my grandmother. Thus Uncle Tommy became my great grandfather.

"Uncle Tommy came from OH in a covered wagon in the 1850's and began buying land in the area of what is now Hoopeston. He kept a daily diary and it provided a lot of entertainment for fireside reading during my childhood. He once traded a horse for 80 acres of 'swamp land'. Before the area was drained it was all swampy. He made it very clear to the railroad when he gave them the land with the stipulation that no train was to pass through Hoopeston without stopping.

"Uncle Tommy built a log cabin in a walnut grove west of Hoopeston on old Cunningham Hill, part of which is still standing. Grandmother told me that the first schooling she received was by riding horseback to Red Top School near Rossville. She married my grandfather, James Cunningham in 1865.

"Grandfather Cunningham and J.S. McFerren, for whom McFerren Park was named, were very good friends. When one opened the McFerrin & Chamberlan Bank the other began the Hamilton & Cunningham Bank later across the street. When Grandfather and Bill Moore began the canning factory, McFerren and two others started a canning factory. When Grandfather built his big home on East Penn, McFerren built one right across the street.

"When Grandfather and Bill Moore took over IL Canning Co. it was little more than a small office. The first name they put on canned beans and corn was Pride of IL. The second label they used was Baby Bunting and it had a baby picture of me and Sis on the label. The third label was Joan of Arc. The three labels were painted on the office building until last year when they were painted over. I remember when the canning factory had husking sheds and all the work was done by hand. The whole town helped when the corn was ready. They had 20 head or more of mules pulling wagons. All the dented cans were given to anyone who cared to come and get them.

"My Dad and Bert Cunningham, his brother, farmed 1000 acres of land just west of McFerren Park. Together they raised a lot of hogs and cattle which they shipped to Chicago to the market. There were cattle barns all around the house and it took quite a few hired men to complete all the work. We had two tenant houses, one in the middle of the farm and one near our house. The men helped on the farm and the women helped mother in the house.

"We had a lot of special buildings then on the farmstead. There was a milk house, smoke house and a summer kitchen. The milk house had water running through it and anything we wanted to keep cool we put in the water tank. We used the summer kitchen for canning as it was much cooler but it was a job preserving and canning the food.

"In cold weather we would butcher nine hogs or more at a time and give one to each tenant as well as the family in town. The rest we would leave hanging in the cold weather.

"We had no phone on the farm though they did in town. When Dad heard the Bell crew was going through putting up poles from town to town but could find no place to stay he contacted them. He agreed to put up the crew if they would put in a telephone for us which they did. This made it easier for the parents and grandparents to keep check on us girls.

"I remember the first auto Grandfather Cunningham bought. It was a Pierce Arrow and he had to have a chauffeur to come to drive it as no one here knew how to drive. The tires were easy to puncture and frequently blew. We called it the horseless carriage and kept it in the barn where all the natives came to view it. It had an open top with a big door in the back. It was an all day trip to Danville and you could depend on lots of flats. To get over the big hill north of Danville we would have to get up enough speed to make it over the top or else that car would slowly roll back down the hill and we would have to try again. I still remember the chauffeur's name, Jack Jackson. Once he had taught Grandfather to drive he left. Horses were so afraid of the car that it caused a lot of trouble. The roads were all gravel and dirt so we had to dress in dusters to ride in the car but we still arrived very dusty.

"My mother was the daughter of George Dove and Miranda Brown Dove. It was for Grandmother Dove's family that Brown Co., IN was named. Both grandparents had been postmaster and postmistress in Hoopeston. He first, then she later, when he died and left her with the department store which contained the post office.

"I lost most of my family at an early age and the doctor told me to spend more time in the fresh air or I would be next. I took up swimming and spent 25 years as a volunteer instructor at the Danville Y. I was also involved in Scouts as I loved children. I taught many of them to ride as well as being a judge for swimming and riding competitions. I also helped train horses from the area that others were unable to manage. I believe that I owe my long life to all this outdoor activity.

"My husband, Earl Trent, was very active in the lumber business and when he went to the state of WA during the war I went with him. That was the only time I was ever gone from the area for any length of time. I often reflect on how the little community of Hoopeston has changed since I was a girl. Back then it seemed as if everyone was related or kissing cousins, now it has turned into a thriving, large community. Such a long way from the mud streets of when my father was a child and the howling wolves in the night when my grandparents were young."

3049. SUSANNAH ELIZABETH HOOPES, daughter of Daniel and Rachel (Chaunce) Hoopes, was born 14 May 1883 in Belmont Co., OH and died 30 Aug 1897 in Woods Co., OK. She married on 20 Apr 1854 in Belmont Co., OH ZERAH HAYDEN LINDER, son of Joseph and Abigail (Hayden) Linder, born 3 Aug 1834 in Belmont Co. and died 24 Jul 1908 in Woods Co., OK. He and Susannah are buried in Pleasant Ridge Cemetery near Aline, OK. It is said that Susannah was one of the first people to have been buried in this cemetery and time has almost eradicated her name from the tombstone.

Around 1862-3, Zerah and Susannah moved to Greene Co., IL. By the time their 8th child was born, they had migrated to Rice Twp., Ringgold Co., IA where Zerah was a farmer. Susannah's father and brother and several Linder families were neighbors in IA.

From IA the family migrated into KS settling in Reno Co., near Hutchinson. Their sons married shortly thereafter and homesteaded near Hopeton, OK. In 1978, family members visited the site of what is believed to have been this homestead and found a one-room house still standing but in a state of bad repair. It is now evidently used for storage. Most of the roof has long gone but the rafters remain. There was a windmill and cattle pens on the site and a stream ran close by.

3056. SUSANNAH HOOPES, daughter of Ellis Jr. and Grace (Foulke) Hoopes married LEWIS EARLY KELLEY.

We do not know how many other children Susannah and Lewis may have had but would like to include here the interesting obituary of their daughter, Marion K. Bowles which appeared in a local (possibly Joliet, IL) newspaper at the time of her death; unfortunately the clipping was not dated but it was probably ca 1955.

"Dr. Marion K. Bowles of 11 Richards St., who for more than a half-century helped to serve the medical and philanthropical needs of the community, died this morning at Silver Cross Hospital at the age of 90 years.

"Dr. Bowles fell Wed. afternoon in the downtown area and fractured her hip. Thurs. at Silver Cross Hospital she underwent surgery to have the bone set. An inquest will be conducted at a later date, Coroner Willard Blood said.

"Dr. Bowles, often referred to as one of Joliet's truly 'grand ladies,' was an institution in the community. White-haired and regal looking, she came to Joliet in 1894 to practice medicine—then a profession almost unheard of for women. She also found time to introduce many new sanitary ideas to the community and to train nurses in obstetrics and pediatrics.

"Dr. Bowles helped to organize the Business and Professional Woman's Club in Joliet and served as its first president from 1923-5. She also was a past president of the state Business and Professional Woman's club and of the Will-Grundy Medical Society.

"Although she had no children of her own, Dr. Bowles had a tremendous interest in the youth of Joliet. For 19 years she served on the Joliet Twp. High School Board of Education and several times was president of the board. She organized the health department at the school. For a number of years she served as school physician also and was in charge of the medical examinations for the girls at the school.

"Although she retired from practice several years ago, Dr. Bowles did not let the retirement apply to her other activities. It gave her more time to devote to her many philanthropies and to her friends.

"An enthusiastic traveler, she saw Niagara Falls 15 times and crossed the Atlantic 15 times. Too numerous to count were her visits to all parts of the USA.

"Born on the day Abraham Lincoln was shot—Apr 14, 1865—at Table Grove, 18 miles from Macomb IL, she was the daughter of Lewis Early Kelly and Susannah Hoopes Kelly. In 1886 she completed her schooling at IL State Normal U. and taught for 5 years. In 1891, she was Supt. of Schools at Astoria. She resigned that post to enroll at Northwestern Medical School. Three years later she was graduated from Northwestern with her doctor's degree, then moved to Joliet.

"While at Northwestern she met a young attorney, William A. Bowles, who had offices in Chicago with his brother. They were married 29 Dec 1893. Her husband served in the lower house of the IL legislature prior to his death in March 1922 at St. Petersburg, FL.

"After coming to Joliet, Dr. Bowles taught obstetrics in Silver Cross Hospital Nurses Training School. She served in this training post for 18 years.

"Dr. Bowles was president of the Will-Grundy Medical Society as early as 1901 and again in 1917. For 14 years she served as secretary-treasurer.

"She helped to establish infant welfare stations in the area and was medical director of the Rockdale Center.

"Nor did her talents stop with her profession. She painted, she was an author and an organizer.

"Dr. Bowles was a member emeritus of the IL Medical Soc. The membership was bestowed on her 6 Jul 1948. On 15 Aug 1949 she became a 50-year member of the state association.

"Other groups in which she held membership included the American Assn. of University Women, the American Medical Assn, Alpha Epsilon, the B & P Club, Chapter BA-PEO, Delta Kappa Gamma, the Joliet Artists League, the Joliet Woman's Study Club, the Past Officers Club of the Woman's Club of Joliet, the Public Health Club and the Will Co. Conservation Council, the Will-Grundy Medical Soc., the Women's Auxiliary to the Medical Society and the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

"The body was moved to the Harris Funeral Home. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

"Surviving are a niece, Helen, now Mrs. A. A. Flagman of Davenport, IA and Paul S. Atchison of Coldwater, MI, whom Dr. Bowles took into her home after his parents died."
